Limited Edition Matt Black RSX Kits from SPAX

For the past six months SPAX engineers have been testing the prototypes of their next generation dampers to be used in RSX and PSX kits.

Now these dampers and struts are ready for the market and as a special offer to readers SPAX are offering Limited Edition versions in matt black.

These kits are individually numbered to ensure they will instantly become collectors items.

The dampers feature brand new internals made to even finer tolerance than before and filled with the new SF⁶ gas which gives better low speed ride characteristics and will reduce any air build up in the damper when hot.

Of course all the existing SPAX RSX features are still there... they offer quick, easy and precise damper and ride-height adjustment on the car, they include updated chrome silicon springs, they are computer dyno tested before they leave the factory and they come with a full 2 year warranty for added peace of mind...

BUT there will only be 200 of these special build dampers available in the UK and just 400 available worldwide, so if you want the chance to experience the next generation suspension from SPAX you'll have to move fast.
