SPAX Adjustable Shock Absorber Kit for Mustangs

SPAX Performance Ltd are well known for their suspension components for European and Japanese cars. What isn't so well known is that they also offer kits for various American built vehicles too. They now have an adjustable front and rear shockers for all models of Ford Mustang, series 1, 1964-70 and series 2, 1971 - 73.

The dampers feature 28 point on-car adjustment and are fully dyno tested before they leave the factory. To cope with worst that the elements can throw at them, the dampers bodies are powder coated. Powder coating and oven baking has proven far superior to the zinc and gold passivation or wet spray used by other manufacturers.

As with all SPAX Suspension components, quality is paramount and this is underlined by the fact that SPAX is one of the very few British companies to have achieved German TUV approval.
