SPAX SSX Uprated Lowering Springs for Alfa Romeo 156

Alfa Romeo 156 owners wishing to improve their car's handling would do well to take a look at the new springs from SPAX Performance. SPAX have been designing and manufacturing suspension for sporting Alfas for decades - and they still list cars such as the Alfa Sud, the GT1750 Veloce and the '74 GTV in their current catalogue alongside almost all of Alfa's modern models.

Just because SPAX springs are sensibly priced they shouldn't be confused with other springs you may have seen. SPAX Performance is run by genuine enthusiasts who will go to any extreme to make sure that the kits they produce will make your car better, safer and more fun to drive.

These springs are cold wound, silicon springs and will make your Alfa feel truly at home on winding Italian Alpine passes - or winding English 'B' roads for that matter.

SPAX SSX springs for the Alfa 156 will lower the car by -40mm.

At just £124.99 including VAT, a set of SPAX SSX uprated and lowered performance springs must be one of the best value and worthwhile improvements any 156 owner could make. SPAX SSX kits are available from all good SPAX retailers, details on the SPAX website... www.spaxperformance.com.
